Rules for Computing Interest

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

TWO PER CENT.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 180.

TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 146.

THREE PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 120.

THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days and divide by 104.

FOUR PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 90.

FIVE PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

SIX PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

SEVEN PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days and divide by 52.

EIGHT PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

NINE PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

TEN PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36.

TWELVE PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

FIFTEEN PER CENT.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

Business Laws

Principals are responsible for the acts of their agents.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced. Written contracts concerning land must be under seal.

Notes do not bear interest unless it is so stated.

If a note is lost or stolen, the maker is not released if the consideration and amount can be proved.

Demand notes are payable when presented, without grace, and bear legal interest after a demand, if not so written.

An endorser on a demand note can be held only for a limited time, variable in different states.

To be negotiable a note must either be made payable to bearer or be properly endorsed by the person to whose order it is made.

If the endorser desires to avoid responsibility, he can endorse "without recourse."

Notes becoming due on Sunday or a legal holiday are, as a rule, payable on the day following.

A note made on Sunday, or one dated ahead of its issue, is void, but it may be dated back.

If a note is altered in any way by the holder it becomes void.

A note made by a minor is void in some States and is voidable on judicial decision in others.

A contract with a minor or a lunatic is void.

If a note is not paid when due, the endorser, if any, should be legally notified to be held on.

A note obtained by fraud or given by an intoxicated person cannot be collected.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

Signatures with a lead pencil are good in law.

The acts of one partner bind the others.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for all the debts of the firm except in the case of a special partnership.

The word "limited" in connection with firm names indicates a limitation of responsibility for each member.

An agreement without consideration of value is void.

"Value received" should be written in a note, but it is not necessary. When not written, it is presumed by law or may be shown by proof.

A consideration is not sufficient in law if it is illegal in its nature.

An endorser of a note is exempt from liability if not served with a notice of its dishonor within 24 hours of its non-payment.

If a letter containing notice of protest of non-payment be put into the Post Office, any miscarriage does not affect the party giving notice.

Notice of protest may be sent either to the place of business or residence of the party notified.

A receipt for money is not legally conclusive.

Points of Constitutional Law

Congress must meet at least once a year.

Congress may admit as many new States as desired.

One State cannot undo the act of another.

By the constitution every citizen is guaranteed a speedy trial by jury.

A power which is vested in Congress alone cannot be exercised by a State.

One State must respect the legal decisions and laws of another.

Congress cannot pass a law to punish for a crime already committed.

A person who commits a felony in one State cannot find refuge in another.

Bills for revenue can originate only in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments.

Treaties with foreign powers are made by the President and ratified by the Senate.

The territories each have a delegate to Congress who is allowed the privilege of debate, but not the right to vote.

The Vice-President, who ex-officio presides over the Senate, has no vote in that body except in case of a tie ballot.

If the President holds a bill longer than ten days while Congress is in session it becomes a law without his signature.

An act of Congress cannot become a law over the President's veto except on a two-thirds vote of both Houses.

The House of Representatives may impeach the President for any crime, but the Senate has the sole power to try all impeachments.

An officer of the United States Government is not permitted to accept any title of nobility, order of honor, except with the permission of Congress.

Amendments to the Constitution of the United States require a two-thirds vote of each House of Congress, and must be ratified by at least three-fourths of the States.

The President of the United States must be at least 35 years of age; a Senator, 30; a Congressman, 25. The President must have been a resident within the United States fourteen years.

A naturalized citizen is not eligible to the office of President of the United States. A male child born in a foreign land to American parents has an equal chance to become the President with one born on American soil.

The United States shall guarantee to every State a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the Legislature or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic trouble.

Good Rules for Business Men

Don't worry; don't overbuy; don't go security. Keep your vitality up; keep insured; keep sober; keep cool.

Stick to chosen pursuits, but not to chosen methods.

Be content with small beginnings and develop them.

Be wary of dealing with unsuccessful men.

Be cautious, but when a bargain is made stick to it.

Keep down expenses, but don't be stingy.

Make friends, but not favorites.

Don't take new risks to retrieve old losses.

Stop a bad account at once.

Make plans ahead, but don't make them in cast iron.

Don't tell what you are going to do until you have done it.

NE. Storm SE. Storm SW. Storm NW. Storm Hurricane or Whole Gale

EXPLANATION OF SMALL CRAFT, STORM, AND HURRICANE WARNINGS

The Small Craft Warning—A red pennant indicates that moderately strong winds that will interfere with the safe operation of small craft are expected.

The Northeast Storm Warning—A red pennant above a square red flag with black center displayed by day, or two red lanterns, one above the other, displayed by night, indicates the approach of a storm of marked violence with winds beginning from the northeast.

The Southeast Storm Warning—A red pennant below a square red flag with black center displayed by day, or one red lantern displayed by night, indicates the approach of a storm of marked violence with winds beginning from the southeast.

The Southwest Storm Warning—A white pennant below a square red flag with black center displayed by day, or a white lantern below a red lantern displayed by night, indicates the approach of a storm of marked violence with winds beginning from the southwest.

The Northwest Storm Warning—A white pennant above a square red flag with black center displayed by day, or a white lantern above a red lantern displayed by night, indicates the approach of a storm of marked violence with winds beginning from the northwest.

Hurricane, or Whole Gale Warning—Two square flags, red with black centers, one above the other, displayed by day, or two red lanterns, with a white lantern between, displayed by night, indicates the approach of a tropical hurricane, or one of the extremely severe and dangerous storms which occasionally occur.

Weather Wisdom

Sunset Colors: A gray, lowering sunset, or one where the sky is green or yellowish-green, indicates rain. A red sunrise with clouds lowering later in the morning, also indicates rain.

Sky Color: A deep blue color of the sky, even when seen through clouds, indicates fair weather; a glowing whiteness an approaching storm.

Visibility: Unusual clearness of the atmosphere, unusual brightness or twinkling of the stars indicate rain.

Fogs: Fogs indicate settled weather. A morning fog usually breaks away before noon.

Frost: The first frost and the last frost are usually preceded by a temperature very much above the mean.

Halo (Sun Dogs): By halo we mean the large circles, or part of circles, about the sun or moon. A halo occurring after fine weather indicates a storm.

Corona: By this term we mean the small colored circles frequently seen around the sun or moon. A corona growing smaller indicates rain; growing larger, fair weather.

Rainbows: A morning rainbow is regarded as a sign of rain; an evening rainbow of fair weather.

Help in Case of Accident

HELP IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

KEEP COOL — SEND FOR A PHYSICIAN

BURNS — Cover with sterile gauze or clean cloth soaked in baking soda solution (two tablespoons to a quart of tepid water) and bandage loosely. Treat for shock if burn is severe and secure immediate medical attention. In chemical burns first flush area with copious amounts of water and then proceed as above.

APOPLEXY — SUN STROKE — Loosen clothing, apply cold cloths to the head which should be elevated but give no stimulants.

SHOCK — Should be suspected when skin is cold and clammy, perspiration is profuse, face is pale and nausea and/or vomiting are present. Check for possible bleeding, put person on back, loosen clothing and cover with blankets and keep person quiet until seen by physician. Give water to drink only if person is conscious.

FAINTING — Put person on back, loosen clothing. If person does not recover consciousness in a very short time get medical assistance.

POISONING — Send immediately for a physician; then give copious amounts of water and induce vomiting. Remember that in most cases of poisoning it is good policy to dilute the poison and wash it out of the system. Remember too that alkalis are antidotes for acids and vice versa.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION — When breathing has ceased because of drowning, electrical shock, or inhalation or ingestion of poisonous substances, artificial respiration should be started immediately, preferably by the use of the Back Pressure-Arm Lift method. Victim is laid on his stomach with head resting on hands and face turned to one side. Kneel on one or both knees at head of person with hands placed on his back so that base of palms are in line with armpits and thumbs are touching.

Rock forward with arms stiff exerting pressure on back in smooth manner. Rock back and at the same time grasp arms between elbows and shoulders and draw them upward and outward until definite resistance is felt at his shoulders. Repeat this maneuver 12 times a minute until breathing becomes spontaneous.

While working, if possible have someone check mouth and tongue to be sure airway is clear. Victim should be kept warm as shock is always present in these cases. After he has regained consciousness, stimulants in the form of hot coffee or tea or a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a half glass of water can be given.

WOUNDS — Superficial or minor wounds should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water and then covered with a sterile dressing. Deep or extensive wounds require the prompt attention of a physician. As first aid measure they should be covered to avoid further contamination. Bleeding is controlled by direct pressure or by pressure applied to the pressure points.

FOREIGN BODY IN EYE — Grasp lashes of upper lid and pull lid out and over lower one. Foreign body EMBEDDED in the eye should be removed only by a physician.

PAINFUL INSECT STINGS — Apply weak ammonia solution. If stinger is present in bite, it should be removed with a tweezers.

FROST-BITE — Warm affected part very gradually by placing next to warm part of body or by applying warm (not hot) compresses to area.

NOSEBLEED — Most nosebleeds can be stopped by holding the nose firmly between the fingers for several minutes. After that the nose should only be blown gently to allow a firm clot to form.

NOTE! Never give an unconscious person anything to drink.

Artificial Respiration

LAY VICTIM IN PRONE POSITION

Elbows bent, one hand on the other. Head on hands, face to one side. Kneel at victim's head on either knee.

1
PLACE
HANDS

Fingers spread, thumbs touching, heels of hands below line connecting armpits.

2
APPLY
PRESSURE

Rock forward slowly until arms are vertical. Keep elbows straight.

3
RELEASE
PRESSURE

Rock back slowly. Grasp victim's arms just above elbows. Continue backward.

4
ARMS

Raise arms until tension is felt, then lower victim's arms, completing cycle.

REPEAT CYCLE 12 TIMES PER MINUTE

Went to Boston on 9.35 bus. Mr. Thibault drove me to Bus station. Bus crowded by Andover students. Got off at Park St. — walked to Pauliste Church. Gasping for breath — felt ANWFUL. Went to Confession & Communion — making EASTER DUTY. Found it much of an ordeal. My knee pained so it was agony to kneel in Confessional Priest kind. Went to Athanatum. Met Milled. Wrote at Old Bellesore — excellent food — roast beef + 2.00 before desert which was fine. ~~Then went into~~ Athanatum & then to office. Saw Virginia on street. Theo in her office. Angela, Evelyn the Italian man, Marjorie who looked unkempt and a new girl to whom I wasn't introduced. Theo's office looked awful. Book cases, table, desk covered with files. Did it look that bad in my reign? Home on 4.35 bus — pleasant ride. At home 5.15. VERY WEARY. The Thibaults had been in residence so every thing was OK.

Guam. "At the center of the town of 4,000 is a famous Celtic cross, the High Cross of Guam. About 1140 (we read) 'In 1040 O'Connor then being king, an Aeth O'Hoson Abbot of Iona' the cross, one of the finest in Ireland, was erected. It stands on the sides panelled and covered with figures, perhaps representing the Passion, and a bishop with a Crozier; and the figures are crude, the workmanship regarded by experts as expressing great skill. 13 ft high & 4 ft across base.

Miss Margaret L. Sullivan

Miss Margaret L. Sullivan, 12 Allyn terrace, died Thursday afternoon at Bon Secours hospital after a short illness.

Miss Sullivan, a teacher in the Lawrence school system for more than four decades, was born in this city, daughter of the late John and Elizabeth (Sullivan) Lawrence. She was a graduate of Lawrence high school and the former Lowell Normal School. Before her retirement some years ago she was a member of the Oliver school faculty.

She was a member of St. Mary's parish; St. Clare branch, League of Catholic Women; Aquinas club; the Retired Teachers Association and the Bon Secours Ladies Auxiliary.

Surviving are three sisters, Miss Frances M. Sullivan, Mrs. John O'Rourke, both of Lawrence, and Mrs. Charles Donovan of St. Petersburg, Fla.; a brother Patrick J. Sullivan of Toms River, N. J.; also several nieces and nephews.

A high Mass of requiem will be offered Monday at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's church. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Friends may call Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 a. m. at the John Breen Memorial Funeral Home, Inc., 6 Tremont street.

For Wajda it was his 21st winner of the meeting and he now leads John Giovanni, the rider of Dandy Intent, by two. Giovanni Wednesday had ridden four winners and tied Hammerin' Hank for the No. 1 spot.

She looked well - however a bit flushed - I thought. She was in bed - allowed to sit up in a.m. today. She was dizzy so went back to bed. Said it took 2 nurses to get her sitting up.

Atheism Established

To the Editor of The Herald:

While it may be conceded that individual sects should not be associated with nor established by the state, this does not compel a divorce between the state and the general concept of religion. Any decision to ban religion in schools does in fact establish a religion—atheism.

Perhaps it would be wise to recall to Justice Black and Company the words of Ben Franklin at the Constitutional Convention: "I have lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth—that God governs in the affairs of men, and if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise (or a child be educated) without his aid?"

When she dies (according to Mrs Du) they will sell Ridge Rd and move into Mgt apartment. Ccc. to Mrs D. Mary is lazy - etc. Rather depressing story.

Went to Athanaeum - sent out a few books. Mildred came early. We had lunch at what used to be Bellecour. She paid. Very ordinary lunch - chopped pork loin peas & fruit + a STALE éclair. Also coffee (I stayed away awake most of the night. Mildred looks wretched. She looked stylish as she had on a lovely fur coat & hat but she is fearfully thin & has acquired wrinkles all over her face & lines under her eyes. She looks sick and stricken. I felt awful myself as we came (in taxi) up Park St & tried to turn corner down Beacon toward Athanaeum. Cap wouldn't let us go. Taxi drove back to Beacon but we could not go north so I walked up hill

Memo for Next Year

A cartel composed of McCall's magazine, Putnam and Fawcett, hard and soft-cover publishers, Embassy Pictures have just set up a Novel Award that would bring the winner at least $210,000. The contest - They call it a talent search - is to run from this July to July 1, '65.

The manuscripts must be original novels in English and the group thinks it may get 10,000 of them. Embassy is putting up 400,000 for serial and subsidiary rights; McCall's 50,000 for serial rights, the two publishers 30,000 for each of the book rights.
